

Fedex St. Jude Classic Champion Trusts Project X For First Pga Tour Victory

This weekend's winner of the FedEx St. Jude Classic relied on Project X shafts in his irons to score his first victory on the PGA TOUR. The 23-year-old champion carded a final round 3-under 67 to lead the field by 3 strokes and earn a coveted spot at the U.S. Open.

"It's exciting to see another young golfer take charge of the game and win so early on in his career," Chad Hall, senior vice president of marketing & product creation for True Temper Sports said. "We are thrilled that the champion not only trusted our shafts to win, but that he won in the backyard of our global headquarters."
